Blair Athol Mine seeks to be more than just a major source of local employment and economic growth, rather to work in partnership with the local community. Through its community relations programme, Rio Tinto Coal Australia is working to help provide positive long term outcomes for the Clermont region.

The Clermont Community Consultative Committee (CCC) includes members of the Clermont community and representatives from Rio Tinto Coal Australia. The group meets quarterly to discuss the Clermont and Blair Athol mines. CCC documents including meeting minutes, key points from meetings and the CCC Charter can be found in the Blair Athol Mine library.

Other recent examples of our consultation and involvement in the community include:
